

Table of Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Part I. A Colonial Life in Travels
Chapter 1. Pieter Albert Bik and His Writings	3
Introduction: Tourism and Colonialism	3
The Lifelong Journey of a Homesick Man	7
The Manuscript	11
A Traveller in a Changing Landscape	15
Chapter 2. Travel and Travel Writing in the Nineteenth Century	19
New Technologies and New Notions	19
European Travel Writing Overseas	25
Travellers' Perspectives on the Dutch Colonial World	31
Chapter 3. The Global Tourist Pieter Albert Bik	37
Mass Travel on the Rhine	37
Across Colonial Java	47
A Guest of Honour in Japan	53
Encountering the Local(s)	61
Conclusions and Implications	69
Part II. The Manuscript of Pieter Albert Bik
A Note on the Translation	77
Brief Notes by Pieter Albert Bik, Born in Amsterdam on the 18th of July 1798, since the Year 1813	79
Journal Kept on the Court Trip to Jedo in the Year 1844, by P.A. Bik, Chief Factor of the Dutch Trade in Japan	179
Notes of P.A. Bik, Made on the Journey from Batavia to Holland, over the So-Called Land Route	239

Bibliography	271
Acknowledgments	277
Index	279