

Table of Contents

Preface and Acknowledgements	7
Chapter 1. Introduction. Water Management in the Premodern Middle East: Forces from “Above” and “Below” Josephine van den Bent, Maaïke van Berkel, Edmund Hayes	9
Chapter 2. Water, Wealth, and Inequality in the Roman World: Forces from “Above” and “Below” Nathalie de Haan	27
Chapter 3. Water Management in Early Islamic Medina: Infrastructure, Labour and Politics Harry Munt	53
Chapter 4. An Environmental History of the Darb Zubayda: Towards a First Approximation Peter J. Brown	79
Chapter 5. The Infrastructure of Purity: Plumbing Advice from Hadith and Early Fiqh Edmund Hayes	101
Chapter 6. Baghdad’s System of Water Provision: Infrastructure, Maintenance, and Decline in the City’s First Two Centuries Josephine van den Bent	121
Chapter 7. Fighting over Water: Everyday Water Issues in Late Buyid and Early Seljuq Baghdad (5 th /11 th Century) Vanessa Van Renterghem	149
Chapter 8. Urban Crafts Associated with the Provision of Water in Islamic Syria Marcus Milwright	173

Chapter 9. Traditional Water Harvesting in Mamluk and Early Ottoman Bilād al-Shām: The Family Cistern Bethany J. Walker	195
Chapter 10. “From a Spring Where Allah’s Servants Will Drink”: Reassessing the Social Significance of Sabīls in Mamluk-Era Cairo Angela Isoldi	223
Chapter 11. Cairo’s Sabīls during Egypt’s Modern Period Dina Ishak Bakhoun	249
Chapter 12. Afterword Alan Mikhail	287
About the Authors	293
Index	295