

Contents

Abbreviations	7
Acknowledgments	9
Introduction	11
Decolonisation in South and Southeast Asian Studies	21
Third Worldism, Afro-Asianism, and the Cold War	26
Socialist Internationalism in Southern Asia	31
Arguments, Methodology, and Structure	37
Works Cited	44
Chapter 1. BEGINNINGS	51
Internationalism in India: Congress Socialism and the ‘Third Force’	54
U Ba Swe, U Kyaw Nyein, and Burmese Socialism	60
Sutan Sjahrir and Indonesian Socialism	63
Early Encounters: South and Southeast Asian Socialism, 1947–1952	68
The High Moment of South and Southeast Asian Socialism	82
Conclusion	100
Works Cited	101
Chapter 2. SOLIDARITIES	105
Formative Forays	109
The Hyderabad Meeting	116
The Asian and African Excursions	122
The Solidarity of Action: From Kalaw to Tokyo	128
The Tokyo Gathering	137
Conclusion	141
Works Cited	143
Chapter 3. SPLITS	145
Statesmen-In-Waiting	149
Subaltern Internationalists	153
The Second Asian Socialist Conference: Bombay, November 1956	165
Conclusion	183
Works Cited	185

Chapter 4. AFTERLIVES	189
State-Building in Southern Asia	193
Democratic Socialism in India, 1957–1960	199
Afro-Asian Socialism, 1957–1960	210
Conclusion	223
Works Cited	225
Conclusion	229
Works Cited	238
Bibliography	241
I. Unpublished Primary Sources	241
International Institute of Social History, Amsterdam:	241
Nehru Memorial Museum & Library, New Delhi:	241
The National Archives, Kew, London:	241
II. Legal/Government Sources	241
III. Published Primary Sources	242
Newspapers, Journals, and Periodicals	242
Other Published Primary Sources	242
IV. Published Secondary Works	243
V. Unpublished Secondary Works	255
Index	257